LYNSTED D.C.M. FOR LYNSTED SOLDIER. We have much pleasure in announcing that Lance-Corporal Ernest George Champion, of the East Surrey Regiment, the only son of Mr. E. Champion, of Lynsted, has been awarded the D.C.M., his name appearing in the New Year list of honours. He and a comrade put out barbed wire in No Man's Land in France, under heavy rifle and machine gun fire, and both obtained the distinction. Lance-Corporal George Champion, who was formerly a member of Lynsted Church Choir, and was amongst the first to join up after the outbreak of War, is to be heartily congratulated on gaining the coveted D.C.M." East Kent Gazette reported - 10th February

CONSCRIPTION STORIES

A BAKER'S SON. The East Kent Appeal Tribunal at Canterbury on Saturday [13th May] refused the application for exemption made for George Frederick Gambell, 25, baker, Greenstreet, by his father, who said he was unable to work himself and the son was the only man left in his employ. [Survived: Born 24th January 1871; Joined the Navy 29th May 1916 serving - HMS Pembroke I/Chatham; "Undaunted"; Pembroke I/Chatham; "Wallington"; Pembroke I; Demobbed 26th July 1919]. Kent Messenger - on 20th May 1916

LYNSTED - FARM LABOURER EXEMPTED.- A number of appeals in respect of agricultural employees came before the Faversham Rural Military Service Tribunal on Monday afternoon (29th April) (Mr. H.T. Bensted presiding). Charles Collins, 23 (single), manager at Monks Farm, Lynsted, for a non-resident tenant, was appealed for by the employer, Mr. Hinge. Two months was granted to give Mr. Hinge an opportunity of finding another man. Arthur Potter (married), in charge of a poultry and fruit farm at Tickham, for Mrs. Evans, whose two sons are serving, was granted six months, and conditional exemption was granted in the case of Alister Fraser, 35 (married), farm bailiff, in the employ of Mr. J.D. Maxted, at Lower Newlands, Teynham. Conditional exemption was also granted in the cases of several waggoners." East Kent Gazette - 3rd June 1916

APPEALS - TEYNHAM LICENSEE. Edward Henry Kemp (35, married), licensee of the Teynham Arms, Greenstreet, appealed on the ground that he had no one else to look after the business and that it would be a serious hardship if he had to go. Appellant, who had previously been granted three months, said he could not find another tenant. Conditional exemption was granted. Faversham and North East News - June 17th

BUTCHER'S SLAUGHTERMEN. Mr. James French, Greenstreet, appealed again for Bertie Ralph Johnson (26, recently married), slaughterman and butcher's manager, who had previously been given three months. Appellant stated that the slaughtermen were very difficult to obtain. He lost one at Faversham at the commencement of the war and had been unable to replace him, and Johnson had had to do the killing for both his Greenstreet and Faversham shops. He had not advertised himself, but he knew his nephew had done so and he was unsuccessful. He (Appellant) had no-one else who could do the slaughtering. Johnson also acted as buyer at times. --- Conditional exemption was granted."

CONDITIONAL EXEMPTION was also granted Ernest Charles Sellen, a Doddington baker. his application had reached the Clerk through the post without a stamp, with the result that the Clerk had to pay 2d. To the amusement of the Court, Mr. Tassell now recovered the twopence from the applicant who paid up cheerfully though he was confident he put a stamp on.

Conditional exemption was granted Albert Edward Parris (40, married) stationer and newsagent, Teynham; Leonard Fuller, farmer, Colyer's Farm, Lynsted. Faversham and North East Kent News - 8th July

LYNSTED. YOUNG MAN HELD TO SERVICE. At the East Kent Appeal Tribunal, Canterbury, last week, the case of a young man, 19, single, horse feeder carter and stockman, in the employ of his father, of Lynsted lane, came on for hearing. The Military Representative appealed against exemption to January 31st, which, considering the man's age, was thought unreasonable. The local tribunal themselves thought the man should be in the Army, but considered that labour on the farm was down to bed-rock, and were satisfied that if he were taken the production of the farm would be seriously reduced. They therefore granted him till January 31st with the object of allowing the substitution scheme to become operative. The father said he was aged 70, and had one son at the Front. He had bought two carts of mould, but he usually bought six. The Military Representative's appeal was allowed, the local tribunal to grant conditional exemption unless and until substituted. East Kent Gazette - 2nd December 1916

PETTY CRIMES

CHURCH SCANDAL - BUCKLAND PARISH. The Faversham Rural District Council has decided to call the attention of the Bishop of Dover, as Archdeacon of Canterbury, to the case of a non-resident Rector in the district taking the tithes of the parish but performing no work. The parish concerned is Buckland, which has an acreage of 336 and a population of 103, but it has no church (the old one being in ruins), mission room not school. It is here that the Rural Council's Isolation Hospital is situated, and the Rev. W.A. Purton, Vicar of Teynham, has offered his services as chaplain without remuneration, which have been accepted. The Council resolved to inquire of the Archdeacon whether, in the circumstances, a portion of the tithes cannot be diverted to the clergymen who does the work. Formerly, the Rector conducted a service once a year at the old ruins, but even this has not been done for some years.

The Rector of Buckland is the Rev. J. Mayo, who resides at Cambridge, and he has held the Rectory since 1874, the patron being Mr. J. Druitt. The value of the tithe is returned at £125 gross and £100 net. Mr. Mayo was ordained by the Bishop of Winchester, in 1865, and he held the curacies of Romsey, Bircham Newton and Olny. He retired from the last-named in 1871 - 44 years ago, and has apparently held no benefice since beyond the sinecure of Buckland. Forty-four years at £100 per annum gives a total of £4,400, or at a compound interest very much more." Kent Messenger - 1st January 1916

DEPUTY CHIEF CONSTABLE AND THE MOTOR BUS.- At Sittingbourne Police Court on Monday [6th January], Frederick Stephens Marsh, a motor bus driver, of Faversham, in the employ of the Maidstone and District Motor Services, Ltd., was summoned for driving a motor bus at a greater speed than 12 miles an hour, at Bapchild, on December 14th. He pleaded not guilty.- Captain S.Clark, Acting Chief Constable for Kent, said he followed the motor bus in his police motor car, and checked the speed, and from Greenstreet to Sittingbourne the speed of the bus averaged from 15 to 20 miles an hour. Considering the darkness (it was nearly 7 pm), and the state of the roads, he considered that the bus was travelling at a pace that was dangerous to the public.- The driver of the police car corroborated.- Defendant said his firm did not provide him with a speedometer, and he did not know he was going so fast.- The Magistrates imposed a penalty of £5. Kent Messenger - 8th January 1916

THEFT OF COAL. Harry Weller was summoned for stealing a quantity of coal, value 9d., the property of Messrs. Topham, Jones and Railton at Oare, on the 12th inst.

Sidney Wright, secretary to the agents in charge of prosecutor's works at Harty Ferry proved the value of the coal, and stated that defendant was working for some haulage contractors employed by his firm.

P.C. Golding stated that about 1 p.m. on the 12th inst he was standing in a shop in Church Road, Oare, when he saw defendant who was riding on a truck of coal drawn by a steam tractor, shift a piece of coal to the side of the truck. Witness then looked out of the shop door and saw defendant put a piece of coal in the doorway of No.1, Providence Place. He then walked alongside the engine towards Harty Ferry. Witness went to the cottage and was handed the piece of coal produced by Sarah Lennard. He then went to the Harty Ferry extension works and saw defendant about the matter, and he admitted giving the woman coal on that day and the 11th inst as a well.

Defendant pleaded guilty, and said he did not think he was doing any harm.

Mr. Wright said his firm prosecuted with the utmost reluctance and they would be glad if the Bench dealt as leniently as possible with defendant.

The Bench fined defendant £1 or seven days.

A summons against Sarah Lennard for receiving the coal knowing it to have been stolen was adjourned until the next sessions as it was stated that she was too ill to attend, but the Chairman said that if she failed to appear or did not send a medical certificate a warrant would be issued for her arrest." Whitstable Times and Herne Bay Herald of 29th January 1916

SEQUEL TO AN ACCIDENT.

At the Faversham County Court on Friday in last week, before his Honour Judge Shortt, Mr. A.K. Mowll applied for leave to issue an execution against Mr. Shirley Falcke, of Lynsted Lodge, to recover an award and costs, amounting to £12/12/8, obtained at the Court in July last, by Violet Hamilton, a domestic servant, who had an accident while employed at the Lodge. Mrs Falcke wrote saying that her husband was on active service. His Honour, under these circumstances, adjourned the case." East Kent Gazette - 19th January 1916

LOSS OF AN EYE.

William Pye, 22, soldier, was indicted for maliciously inflicting grievous bodily harm upon Percy Sidney Parness, a lad, at Ospringle, on the 8th January.

Mr. H.C. Dickens, who appeared for prisoner, at the request of the Judge, said he had advised Pye to plead guilty to a common assault.

Mr. Gibson, for the prosecution, intimated that he did not propose to go on with the more serious charge.

Addressing the Court in mitigation. Mr. Dickens said there was no doubt that prisoner was intoxicated at the time. It was a very dark night, and prisoner and those who were with him thought there was some electric light being flashed in their faces. Prisoner appeared to have hit out wildly and, unfortunately, the blow damaged prosecutor's eye so badly that it had to be removed. Counsel added that accused had expressed the greatest regret that he should have caused the injury.

An officer from prisoner's regiment informed the Court that the man was a good soldier and that he had only been guilty of one or two minor offences during the twelve months he had been in the army.

His Lordship asked if prisoner had been in trouble for being drunk.

The officer: Yes; once my Lord.

The Judge said that if the drink so affected prisoner as to make him commit assaults on other people he must give it up.

Prisoner: My Lord, it will teach me a lesson.

The Judge: I hope it will. But this is not the first time you have been drunk. Unfortunately for you, you have done a very severe injury to prosecutor, who has lost the sight of one eye. That is a matter I cannot pass over. You have been in prison one month and I must give you a further six weeks." Whitstable Times and Herne Bay Herald - 26th February 1916.

AGED MAN KNOCKED DOWN BY A MOTOR.

- About 7.20 on Friday evening (17th March 1916) a resident of Cellar Hill, Lynsted, named Sutton, who is 82 years of age, left the Co-operative Stores at Greenstreet and stepped into the centre of the road just as a motor car from Sittingbourne containing Colonel and Mrs. J. F. Honeyball came along. The driver swerved to avoid a collision, but the mud-guard caught the old man and knocked him down. Fortunately no bones were fractured, but Sutton was badly shaken and bruised and cut about the face. After being attended to he was removed in a motor ambulance to the Faversham Workhouse Infirmary. Whitstable Times and Herne Bay Herald - 18th March 1916

TEYNHAM. A SAILOR'S MISHAP. On Monday, at the Faversham Borough Police Court, before Mr. E. Chambers, Harry Millen and Percy Smith, both of Teynham, pleaded guilty to being drunk and incapable in Park-road, Faversham, on Sunday night. They had nothing to say, except that Millen, a navy man, remarked that it was a "mishap" of his. The Magistrate let them off with the payment of 4/0 costs each. East Kent Gazette reported - 8th April 1916

ESCAPED PRISONER SENTENCED. Frederick James Lennard, of Oare, was charged on remand with stealing a shaft coupling, value 10s., the property of Messrs. Horsford and Co., at Oare, on December 3rd.

The evidence given at the previous hearing having been read over, prisoner pleaded guilty and stated on oath that on the date in question he called at his sister-in-law's for some rags and bottles. On his way to Faversham across the Powder Mill path to Davington he met a man who gave him the iron for a piece of bacca. He (prisoner) asked him where he got it from, and he said "At Cremer's engine house where there was some rubbish shot."

In reply to the Superintendent prisoner said it was a lie when he told him that it had been on his rabbit hutch for two years. He had never seen the man before, but he should know him again.

Olive Lennard, mother of prisoner stated that on December 3rd, her son left the house at 7.30 a.m. He was wearing a brown coat and vest, and not blue as one of the witnesses stated.

The Superintendent proved three previous convictions, and stated that on December 6th, when prisoner was being taken to gaol he escaped, and was not re-arrested until the 18th, in London. The Bench sentenced the prisoner to a month's hard labour. Whitstable Times and Herne Bay Herald - 15th April 1916

COUNTY PETTY SESSIONS. At these Sessions on Thursday [4th May] (Mr. W.W. Berry in the chair), a summons for assault, brought by Daisy Willis, of Teynham, against Emily Bordini, of Lynsted, was dismissed by the Bench, who thought it should not have been brought. The Chairman characterised it as a foolish case - a silly street squabble.

May Barratt, a single woman, of Conyer, Teynham, was granted an affiliation order against George Ashdown, also of Conyer, who was ordered to pay 2s. 6d. a week until the child is 14. South Eastern Gazette - 9th May 1916

FIRE AT LYNSTED. THE OLD "ANCHOR" TAVERN DAMAGED.

On Sunday afternoon a fire broke out in an old and interesting building at Lynsted, known years ago as the "Anchor" Tavern, belonging to Mr. G.A.H. Smith, and situated next to the village Post Office, opposite the church. The building, which is one of the finest timbered houses in the district, is let in four tenements to Mrs. Barker, and Messrs. Day, Hall, and Jordan. Mrs Barker is an aged widow and her place was shut up, as she was staying with a relative at Sheerness. It was in Mrs Barker's part of the building where the fire originated – caused by a beam running in the chimney. The beam had evidently been smouldering for some time, and it became ignited, and spread to surrounding parts of the building.....

.....On arrival the building was ablaze, and a portion of the roof of the tenement occupied by Mrs Barker had fallen in. An adjoining room, with cellar below, was occupied by Mr. Porter as a grocery store. The contents had been cleared out, and the other tenants had removed their furniture out of the building. East Kent Gazette of 19th February 1916

FIRE AT LUDGATE FARM. A fire broke out in the farm buildings of Ludgate Farm, Lynsted, Sittingbourne, in the occupation of Mr. W.R. Farmer. A large barn and a range of stables were burnt down, the damage (covered by insurance) being about £400. South Eastern Gazette - 12th August 1916

KENT FIRE BRIGADES, ANNUAL MEETING.....We have now 73 Brigades on the roll, two having been disbanded, viz., Keston and Longfield, and the newly-formed Brigade of Teynham and Lynsted has joined, making the total 73, or one Brigade less than last year. The two Brigades above mentioned will probably be reorganised after the war, when we shall hope to have them affiliated again with our District.....

The Teynham and Lynsted Brigade applied for admission to the Union. Captain Hedley Peters welcomed Captain Ferris, who, he said, was previously Chief Officer at Farnborough. Now he had lopped off part of his own district and formed a Brigade, but he hoped he would do some good work there, and with pleasure he moved the election of the new Brigade to membership.

Captain Bradley having seconded, Teynham and Lynsted were duly admitted to membership. Kent Messenger - 16th December 1916

REFERRED FOR COMPENSATION. At the County Petty Sessions on Thursday [17th February] (Mr. W.W. Berry presiding), the Bench decided to refer to the Compensation Authority the license of the Rose beerhouse, Greenstreet, Teynham, on the ground of redundancy. The Rose is an anti-1869 house, and has been closed since last November, the tenant, E.E. Thorpe, a Navy pensioner, having rejoined the Navy. South Eastern Gazette - 22nd February 1916

BISHOP OF DOVER'S VISIT. The new Bishop of Dover paid his first official visit to Faversham on Thursday (13th April). In the afternoon he held a confirmation at the Parish Church, when 87 candidates (41 males and 46 females) were presented from the parishes of Faversham, Luddenham, Oare, Teynham, Ospringe, Otterden, Norton, Newnham, Davington, and the Brents. After this service his Lordship met the clergy and churchwardens of the Deanery at the Queen's Hall, and spoke on the subject of the coming National Mission. South Eastern Gazette 18th April 1916

THE KENT EXPLOSION. STATEMENT AS TO CASUALTIES. The latest estimate of the casualties arising from the explosion at a powder factory in Kent on April 2nd was given by Mr. Herbert Samuel, the Home Secretary, on Wednesday [26th April], in a written answer to a question by Mr. Neville.

Mr. Samuel said: The number of casualties, though large, was happily not so great as the first estimate. One hundred and six men were killed and sixty-six injured. No women were killed or injured. With the exception of five men belonging to the military guard all the killed were employed in the works affected by the explosions. The majority of them were rendering assistance when killed, and the rest were present as spectators. No one was killed or injured while engaged in his ordinary work. Those who were present as spectators were warned to leave, and would have had ample time to do so. Herne Bay Press - 29th April 1916

BRAVERY OF A GREENSTREET DOCTOR'S WIFE. At a Chapter General of the Order of St. John held at St. John's Gate on Friday last, Lord Plymouth, the Sub-Prior, presented Mrs. Selby, wife of Dr. P.G. Selby, of Greenstreet, with a silver medal for conspicuous bravery on the occasion of that great explosion which occurred in Kent on a Sunday afternoon not many months ago. Dr. and Mrs. Selby had not returned from church when the terrible catastrophe occurred, and without waiting for any food they at once motored to the scene, and there they both rendered yeoman service. Whistable Times and Herne Bay Herald of 12th August 1916.

ACCIDENT - Richard Chandler, an elderly man, living at Sittingbourne, was on Friday [28th April] riding on the front of a wagon drawn by a locomotive up Radfield Hill, Greenstreet, when he was jerked from his seat and the wheels of the wagon passed over him, crushing his right shoulder and arm. He received surgical attention and was then removed to St. Bartholemew's Hospital, Rochester, where he is making capital progress. Kent Messenger - 6th May 1916.

MAGISTRATES' WARNING. Two more charges of taking matches into the Explosives Works came before the County Bench on Wednesday [12th July], the defendants being William Malpus, of Station Row, Teynham, and

William Bernard Taylor, of Quay Lane, Faversham. In imposing fines of 40s., in default 10 days, the Chairman said one would really think that by this time employees at the works would take the simple precaution of feeling in their pockets before entering. If the cases did not stop, offenders would probably be sent to prison without the option of a fine. South Eastern Gazette - 18th July 1916

RURAL COUNCIL. At Wednesday's meeting of this Council for highway business the Surveyor reported that Miss Webster was desirous of re-opening negotiations for the improvement at Cambridge Corner, Lynsted Lane. General Jeffreys suggested that the matter should now be deferred until after the war. The Chairman (Mr. Roper Dixon) pointed out that there had been a lot of accidents at this corner. It was decided that the Surveyor should submit an estimate and that the matter should then be considered. South Eastern Gazette - 17th October 1916

V.A.D. MOTOR DRIVER AND HIS LIGHTS. Henry John Victor Wildash, of Greenstreet, was summoned for using head lights on a motor car that had not be obscured according to the regulations at Teynham on November 16th. Defendant pleaded guilty. Mr W.R. Elgar, J.P., who is also a special constable, stated that at five minutes past six on November 16th he saw a motor car with bright head lights coming out of Greenstreet. As they were like a searchlight he stopped defendant and told him he ought not to go about in that way. Defendant replied that he was driving an ambulance, and witness understood him to say he had permission from the police. Witness subsequently informed the Sittingbourne Police about the matter. Defendant said that Dr. Henderson told him that under a new order he could use head lights, but he afterwards found this was wrong. A letter was read from Dr. Henderson that defendant had done most excellent work for the V.A.D. without remuneration. The Chairman said the Bench realised that those who advised him made a genuine mistake though the Order ought not to have been misunderstood, and under the circumstances the case would be dismissed. Addressing Mr. Elgar the Chairman said the Bench were much indebted to him for the action he took. Mr. Elgar said he only asked for defendant to be warned. Whitstable Times and Herne Bay Herald of 16th December 1916
